Chantal's practice is focused primarily on insurance litigation defense in lawsuits arising from construction accidents, catastrophic losses, wrongful death, premises liability, automobile accidents, and legal malpractice. Chantal is also experienced in commercial litigation, including contract disputes and intellectual property.

Prior to attending law school, Chantal served in the United States Air Force for eight years as a Korean language analyst, spending four of those eight years stationed in South Korea. During her time in the Air Force, she was recognized with numerous medals and awards for exemplary service, leadership, and volunteerism.

After her time in the service, Chantal attended Mercer University School of Law in Macon, Georgia. She graduated magna cum laude, was awarded the Custer-Tuggle Award for Excellence in Family Law and was inducted into the Brainerd Curie Honor Society (limited to the top 10% of the graduating class). During law school, she was a staff editor of Mercer Law Review and worked as a professor's research assistant, as well as a mentor and tutor for other students. Chantal spent her final semester of law school as a transient student at St. Mary's University School of Law in San Antonio, and in 2017 she joined Plunkett, Griesenbeck & Mimari, Inc. as an Associate.
